

FUKUSHIMA 2 YEARS ON

NUCLEAR POWER CLEAN AND GREEN?

- How does it feel to be permanently evacuated from your ancestral land?
- How many generations before the radioactive land is safe to inhabit, let alone farm again?
- Is nuclear “clean and green” and the way ahead for Australia?
- Or is it the next big ‘tobacco/asbestos’ public health narrative?

Come along and listen to one of Australia’s foremost experts on radiological hazards spell out the risks and benefits of radiation. And an opportunity to share a light meal and refreshments [FREE!] with local medical and public health activists.

WHEN: 6.30pm, Monday 18th March, 2013

WHERE: KITCHENER HOUSE Auditorium, 285 Ryrie Street, Geelong (opp. Geelong Hospital)

Dr Peter Kamoskos, MBBS, FRANZCR, represents the Australian public on the Radiation Safety Committee of Australia's nuclear safety agency ARPANSA. A radiologist and nuclear medicine physician, Dr Kamoskos will discuss his recent trip to the Fukushima region in Japan.
